EndoSheath® Cystoscopy

Always Ready. Always Sterile.

EndoSheath® Cystoscopy is a new alternative to conventional cystoscopy procedures. For the first time, Urologists can get high performance endoscopic imaging and functionality with the EndoSheath® Technology, the only sterile, disposable option for flexible endoscopy.

The CST-5000 Cystoscope is the only flexible video cystoscope that never comes in contact with the patient. The EndoSheath® Technology provides a durable, protective barrier, as well as a disposable working channel. All patient materials and instrumentation, from tissue samples to stent removal graspers, travel through the channel in the disposable sheath and never come in contact with the reusable cystoscope.

The CST-5000 is an ideal digital cystoscopy system that is ultra portable, versatile, and always ready. The compact size of the overall system makes it perfect for bedside procedures and for any size practice or hospital space. The various channel sizes of the different disposable sheaths allow, for the first time, the freedom to 'customize' the cystoscope for the procedure.
